Shaping the Future Together

In the context of software or information modeling, a happy path is a default scenario featuring no exceptional or error conditions, and comprises the sequence of activities executed if everything goes as expected.

Wikipedia contributors, "Happy path," Wikipedia, The Free Encyclopedia, https://en.wikipedia.org/w/index.php?title=Happy_path&oldid=615829885 (accessed May 13, 2016).

Happy path testing is a well-defined test case using known input, which executes without exception and produces an expected output.

Happy day scenario and golden path are synonyms for happy path.

Data Cleanup Highlights

Georgia Southern

- Mismatched Locations (5,140) – Task 1
 - Location on holdings (mfhd) does not match one or more item records
 - Result of much collection relocation to Automated Retrieval System over last 10 years
 - Split locations for serial and periodical runs
 - Lengthy process: Had to physically check for actual location in many cases
 - Will run report again before next record load
- Duplicate e-journal titles (P2E)
 - Result of having e-journal records in Voyager catalog and ALMA adding same title from CZ
 - Still determining resolution for next load

Duplicate E-Journal Records

- Duplicate OCLC numbers (3,154) – Task 24
 - Not a result of multiple libraries and bibliographic records
 - Filtered report to include 035s containing OCLC numbers only
 - Caused by early days of OCLC when a “close-enough” record was used
 - Record was modified to match resource being cataloged
 - Duplicates created over time as other editions were added
 - Migrated to Voyager; de-dupe detection would alert now
 - Bonus find giving opportunity to clean up old bibliographic records not matching resource
 - Labor intensive since resource copies had to be pulled to make correction
 - Need a different bibliographic record
 - Match for bibliographic record

- Records without OCLC numbers (67,815) – Task 4
 - Systems Librarian refined report to identify locations
 - Cleanup for physical and online items owned by library
 - Some locations excluded from cleanup
 - Reserves
 - Data Driven Acquisitions records (print and electronic)
 - Other temp records
 - Multi-Match Report (1,000)
 - Matching of records as they enter Network Zone
 - Goal is one bibliographic record
 - Different OCLC numbers over time as records are merged in OCLC
 - Results in duplicate records in Network Zone
 - Results in records going to IZ because matches more than one record
 - Most problems = multiple records for same title being loaded with different OCLC numbers for same OCLC record
 - How to avoid in next load?

– Unexpected Cleanup Required (6,676)

- Serendipitous discovery
- Alma takes first barcode if inactive has not been deleted
- Systems Librarian ran report of items with active and

What? Me Worry?

David Lowder

When we received the Alma Configuration Form we were faced with the daunting task of changing our existing circulation policies to fit into the Alma configuration.

In the end it wasn't as bad as we feared.

Circulation policies are based “primarily” on the shelving location and the patron type.

Shelving locations are grouped into Fulfillment Units.

Migrated Voyager item types can be used as “exceptions” to the basic rules.

In the configuration spreadsheet ExLibris wants you to follow their best practices and restricts you to having:

- up to five location types
- up to four patron categories
- up to five item categories

Bummer!

You can get pretty detailed in setting up loan rules if you need to but migration is a good opportunity to look carefully at existing practices and simplify them if possible.
